

Strategic Theme	A. Grow the Open Access subject repository approach	B. Add value for member institutions through shared activities	C. Pursue new strategic partnerships with other service providers
Strategic Direction	A.1. Growing, enhancing and promoting Economists Online as the primary RePEc source and the essential route to quality full-text research outputs and allied research data in economics and related fields	B.1. Providing a forum to share professional expertise and knowledge	C.1. Investigating with ZBW the integration of the Economists Online and EconBiz portals
	A.2. Helping and encouraging new members to get their repository content into Economists Online as soon as possible after joining the Consortium	B.2. Exploring opportunities for developing and delivering shared services beyond Economists Online	C.2. Investigating a partnership/liaison with LIBER
	A.3. Extending the variety of media covered by Economists Online, focusing on storing and making available research data, actively pursuing funding opportunities to do so	B.3. Helping members develop expertise around shared technologies	C.3. Developing relationships with other professional organisations (eg. EEA)
	A.4. Developing the richness and scope of the subject coverage (i) of the existing portal or (ii) by developing a new Nereus portal, actively pursuing funding opportunities to do so		C.4. Pursuing a partnership with the World Bank
Operational Activity	A.1. Delivering and promoting content: Nereus members and Content Group ; informing service development: User Requirements Group and Technical Group ; marketing the service: Marketing Group	B.1. Sharing good practice on hot topics: Nereus workshops ; sharing intelligence to meet specific member needs: visits to partner institutions ; on-going knowledge sharing and support: Nereus blogs and lists (including subject librarians' discussion list)	C.1. Carrying out independent external evaluations of (i) the usability of the Economists Online and EconBiz portals, and (ii) the technical requirements of an integrated portal: Nereus
	A.2. Supporting new partners in making repository content available in Economists Online and helping new partners in implementing necessary guidelines: Tilburg Help Desk	B.2. Providing an archive feed for content into RePEc, providing download statistics, developing the automatic JEL generator, developing data management plans, and continuing to explore opportunities for other shared services: Nereus	C.2. Holding exploratory discussions with the Chair of LIBER: Chair of Nereus
	A.3. Establishing data enclaves: Nereus sub-group	B.3. Maintaining lists of software and library systems used by members to help inform planning: Nereus ; supporting each other on a 1-to-1 basis: Nereus members	C.3. Making contact with relevant professional organisations: relevant Nereus Steering Committee members
	A.4. Investigating extended subject coverage to include a greater emphasis on (i) global issues or (ii) business studies: Nereus sub-groups		C.4. Resuming discussions with the World Bank in 2012 when repository is established: Chair of Nereus
KPIs	A.1. Number of hits; download statistics; number of deposits; level of user awareness and satisfaction	B.1. Presentations by host libraries on the Nereus Web site; reports and presentations from workshops on the Web site; number of staff visits; discussion list activity; blog activity	C.1. Clear decision on potential integration of the portals
	A.2. Speed of deposit from new members; annual review of guidelines	B.2. Case studies and outcomes of any relevant activities	C.2. Signed partnership agreement with LIBER
	A.3. Successful establishment of data enclaves; funding secured to develop services; number of deposits; number of uses; case studies of new uses of data	B.3. Annually updated lists of library systems and software; reports on bilateral/multilateral discussions	C.3. Raised exposure of Nereus through other organisations' Web sites and other activities
	A.4. Robust case for extending coverage; number of deposits that would not have otherwise been received; number of visits to the portal(s) that would not have taken place with original coverage		C.4. World Bank content available through Economists Online